SPONSOR FORM

The overwhelming majority of U.S. adult women (6 in 10 overall) are responsible for health care decisions for themselves and/or members of their family [includes spouse/significant other, child/children and/or adult relative(s) (parent, grandparent)] according to the American Academy of Family Physicians. U.S. women are inclined to long-term relationships, enhanced loyalty and spending money in their own communities. Using you marketing funds to acquire women's attention is a good investment resulting in higher overall sales.
